Very Good Trunks
and a Saving in Price

The first essential in considering a trunk is strength, for with present-day methods of handling in transit, a trunk, to be worth anything at all, must withstand the most severe knocks.

We assure you that these trunks are, first of all, strong. Even the smallest in the lot (32-inch) is a roomy trunk and of convenient interior arrangement. Every one of these trunks is so good in appearance that you may be truly proud of it.

At $5.50 You Save $1.50 to $3

A first-class make of trunks, well constructed with a basswood body, hard vulcanized fibre bound and two fibre center bands, reinforced and strongly protected with hardwood slats, finished with good, substantial hardware. The interior is arranged with a large, roomy tray, divided for hats, waists, etc.

At $7.50 You Save $2 to $4.50

A group of trunks of exclusive GIMBEL style, made by a well known manufacturer for us. They are similar to the $5.50 trunks in construction and arrangement, but better quality throughout. Several sizes from which to choose, ranging from 32 to 40 inches. These trunks deserve your particular attention.

BACON BOOM ON WANE; ROOSEVELT AVOIDS SPLIT

Colonel Won't Join Barnes Against Whitman—Hinman Not Likely to Run.

The Robert Bacon house for United States Senator got a bit frizzled today in the Republican frying pan. Col. Roosevelt, although sympathetic and willing to support the personal candidacy of Mr. Bacon, declined to go to the extent of forming an alliance with William Barnes, which contemplated splitting the Republican party in this State.

Mr. Bacon went up-state to consult Edith Roosevelt, and the time and all their neighbors in town agreed to stand by the decision of the sage of Ossining. William Fielder, who has had the Senatorial field all to himself, said to-day that he was not alarmed by the prospect of Mr. Bacon entering the race, as the result would be a three to one vote anyway.

The program of the Republicans to Gov. Whitman for renomination by Harvey Hinman of Binghamton faded today. If any contest is started it will be for the Senatorial nomination only.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION IN SESSION AT ELMIRA

Hanly, Candidate for President, Makes Address To-Night—Howard Mentioned for Governor

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The State Prohibition Convention opened here this morning with more than three hundred delegates present, representing nearly every district in the State. The morning session was devoted to perfecting the permanent organization. This evening the Prohibition candidate for President, former Gov. J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, will speak, candidates for the State ticket will be selected, petitions will be signed and a platform will be adopted.

Late yesterday the Rev. F. J. Kennedy of Rochester, in his keynote speech, mentioned Thomas Morris Osborne's name. This brought forth such an ovation that there was talk of making the Sing Sing Warden the party's candidate for Governor. Clinton, the state capital, was also mentioned for the place, while Dr. Leigh Colvin of New York City likely will be the nominee for United States Senator. Osborne has wired a declination to run for Governor.

DROWNED, HIS WATCH RUNS.

Unidentified Body Found Near Battery Wall.

The unidentified body of a man about forty-five years old was found today in the boat basin at the Battery. A watch in the clothing was still running and marked the correct time. The man was of medium height, weighed 150 pounds, had sandy hair and mustache, and was partly bald. He wore a black suit and black shoes and socks.

POLITICS CUT OUT BY G.O.P. IN SLATE FOR THE JUDICIARY

Select Two Candidates Who Have Received Designations From Tammany Hall.

DRIVING AT SULLIVAN

Christy Up for Congress, May Have Hard Struggle on the Lower East Side.

Republican managers of New York County announced today their selection for local offices to be nominated without opposition in the primaries. They have determined to make non-partisan judiciary the campaign issue, and as evidence of good faith they have put on the slate all the judges whose terms expire, including two Democrats.

For Supreme Court, Vernon M. Davis, Democrat, who has been named also on the Tammany ticket; George V. Mallon and John B. Clark, Republicans, both now sitting on the bench but not named by Tammany.

For Judge of General Sessions:

George A. Thompson, Democratic presidential candidate, signed a nomination for Tammany Hall.

The members of the Board of Education, Henry H. Corcoran, Republic, and others, signed a nomination for Tammany Hall. William H. Buckley, chairman of the New York County Committee, and many of the leading World War veterans of the Tammany World, "We fully understand the political situation, we are concerned not of maintaining greatest justice from our politicians and according Justice were never served with exceptions of it. It is the fact suggested that Tammany Hall is in the desire to obtain local offices has lost sight of the only important principle. Nevertheless, the Republicans feel it their duty to carry it out alone, and the fact that two of the men named are members of Tammany organizations who do not share them.

If Tammany is determined to impose a partnership politics into the judiciary, and the people give assent to this course, then the Democratic organization will feel at liberty to take different action in the primaries.

Republicans are hopeful of capturing two or more congressional seats from the Democrats in Manhattan and the Bronx, particularly in the lower east side where a drive is to be made against Christy Sullivan in the Thirteenth District along the Bowery. Population there has changed its character from the old days when the Italians absolutely ruled.

A close vote is expected there.

Another contest will be made in the Twelfth District, now represented by Meyer London, socialist. Republicans expect that in a three-cornered fight this year they may win.

Another generation of Tamfins has entered the Republican political arena in the Sixteenth Congressional District, which includes a strip across the heart of Manhattan between Thirty-sixth and Fifty-ninth Streets. The Republicans have named for Congress W. S. Taft, son of Henry W. Taft and a nephew of former President Taft. The district is heavily Democratic and is now represented by Peter J. Dowling, a Tammany leader.

In the Seventeenth Congressional District, next north of the Sixteenth, another newcomer to politics has been selected. Dr. Republic, in the person of Victor Morris, one of the foremost lawyers of Wall Street and a widely known economist.

The three present Republican Congressmen from Manhattan are to be re-nominated. Walter M. Chandler in the Nineteenth, Isaac Siegel in the Twenty-first and William S. Bennet in the Twenty-third.

REFERENCE TO T.R. BY HUGHES MAKES A HIT IN THE WEST

Candidate Renews Attack on Wilson Administration on Lines of Non-Efficiency.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 16.—Charles

Evans Hughes today preached his doctrine of "America First and America Efficient" in Oregon, the State which despite his protest from the Supreme Court bench instructed him in the primaries.

So far Mr. Hughes has cited instances to support charges of "payment of political debts at the public expense," "Swordy" laws in the anti-dumping sections of the Democratic tariff law and failure of the Wilson administration.

At Tacoma he added a new charge that it required a Republican emergency currency measure to tide the Democratic party through the panic days just at the beginning of the Wilson administration.

It is known that Mr. Hughes has recently received a great deal of data from the National Committee in New York, including one $75 telegram. This is a treasure house of information for his use. From now on in every one of his big speeches, the candidate will attempt to strike a new blow at his political opponents by citation of specific instances supporting his claims.

The greatest demonstration he has yet received was at Seattle last night. Eight thousand jammed the hall and a thousand more stood outside vainly pounding on the doors for admission.

Even above Hughes's voice could be heard this din of the disappointed ones. This vast audience cheered every shaft which Hughes shot at the Democratic administration. Stimulated by the warmth of the reception, the nominee gave what members of his party declared was his best speech of the tour.

Vociferous cheers greeted Hughes's first direct reference to Roosevelt during the tour. He did not mention the name of the former President, but the reference was unmistakable. It was in Connecticut that the satirical staff at the Democratic claim of "excellency" when preparedness first became an issue. Hughes said:

"Then a stalwart figure appeared before the American people, told them a few things and then the Administration changed its mind."

Hughes bitterly assailed the Democratic rule of the army and navy and promised "competent and efficient men" in the army and navy portfolios if he is elected.
